Nursery Rhyme Tease are cool!

January 15th, 2007

EIEIO, The Cow Jumped Over the Moon, Humpty Dumpty Had A Great Fall, Itsy Bitsy Spider – all can be found on some of the cutest tees around Nursery Rhyme Tease. Read it and Wear it, is the slogan for Nursery Rhyme Tease an ingenious company making fun and fashion come together to promote literacy and cool style. My boys are in love with books and reading, when the package arrived from Nursery Rhyme Tease with a shirt and coordinating book for each of them to test, well let's just say it was like Christmas morning all over again.

"After many years of reading and singing nursery rhymes, teacher turned mom, Heather Sievers, thought it would be fun to incorporate literacy and the joy of reading along with high fashion. For toddlers that is." This mompreneur has brought her dream to fruition with a line of lovable, fun & wearable nursery rhyme tee shirts for toddlers, and the accompanying board book for your child to enjoy. One of the first things I noticed about Nursery Rhyme Tease when they arrived was the packaging, I love great presentation! Their tees are great quality, reasonably priced and the artwork is extraordinary on the tees. Let's face it, anything that will inspire our children to take an interest in reading is time and money well spent. What an ideal gift for the little reader in your life! – Daria
